Adam Smith – His Life, Work and Legacy Marking the 300th birthday of the author of *The Wealth of Nations

The tercentenary (300th birthday) of Adam Smith, the author of The Wealth of Nations, is being marked this year around the world.

Regarded as ‘the father of capitalism’ and ‘the father of economics’, Smith is a giant in political economy. To mark the occasion, the John Curtin Institute of Public Policy at Curtin University, with the generous support of the Mannkal Economic Education Foundation, is holding a one-day event with expert speakers presenting on Smith’s life, work and legacy – including his relevance for today.

Speakers are likely to include: Professor Tony Aspromourgos (University of Sydney), Professor Lisa Hill (University of Adelaide), Professor William Coleman (ANU) and Professor Michael McLure (UWA).

Details, including how to register, are still being finalised, but please mark the date in your diary and join us for this special event.
